

A good horse beneath you. A blue sky above. And hundreds of acres to explore on horseback. No stress! No phones! Just the beauty of nature and the smell of clean fresh air. That's the beauty of the visit to Horse World Stables, just south of Orlando in the Walt Disney World Resort area. Time you can spend entirely on a horse or just sitting under a big oak tree listening to the sounds of a working ranch, or browse through our gift shop. We have it all! Group therapy, if you want to spoil it by getting scientific. But better known around here as a heckuva good time. If you're already chomping at the bit for a trail riding adventure, then by all means take a short drive out to the peaceful Florida countryside. Relax, away from the crowds and long lines! Experience what it was like when life was simple!
